

PIPEDA?

What is it?

No, IT'S NOT RUSSIAN FOR
"I SMOKE WITH A PIPE"

But, if you are curious, come on down to the Hotel Saskatchewan on Wednesday February 25th. The local CFE chapter is sponsoring a luncheon that tries to answer the "PIPEDA" question. What is it? We probably should know that this all stems from the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act that has been phased in over the last few years. (The one that has been causing your mail box to overflow with reassuring messages from companies claiming that the data they have about you is somehow safe and secure.....)

But how many of you are comfortable with what you know about this process? Are there reasons for CFE's and other professionals to be concerned? Are there other issues out there? For example, are you aware that only certain individuals/organizations may be recognized as being qualified to investigate non-compliance with this Act? Are CFEs qualified to meet these standards? What about other professional groups?

Craig Gibson will be our guest speaker talking about these issues. He is a CFE who works with Network Security Investigation Agency (NSIA) based in the City of Regina. He has appeared at a number of training sessions throughout the country including the 2003 eWorld Conference, and the 2003 IT Expo Conference and trade show. He has appeared on television, and has participated in a number of different training forums. He is currently working on research for a book on PIPEDA issues.
